

RSAatGSU

The Georgia State University student chapter of the Rhetoric Society of America

What is RSAatGSU?

RSAatGSU establishes a space for graduate students to foster the study of rhetoric. It seeks to cultivate community among rhetoric scholars across disciplines and is committed to promoting rhetoric and civic

Who can participate?

All GSU graduate students, faculty members, and staff members interested in participating in RSAatGSU are eligible to participate. Students may participate as active members or as guests. Faculty and staff members participate as guests.

UPCOMING EVENTS:

TIM BAROUCH, Assistant Professor of Communication and head of the GSU Debate team will lead our first event of Spring 2016. Dr. Barouch will discuss two articles: "The Constrained Liberty of the Liberal Arts and Rhetorical Education" – an article that he is preparing for submission to Rhetoric Society Quarterly, and David Zarefsky's "What Does an Argument Culture Look Like?"

WHEN: THIS WEDNESDAY
February 3rd at 11:00am

WHERE: 25 Park Place, Room 1113

We hope you will join us! For copies of the articles, or for more information about RSAatGSU, please reach out to Matt Klingbeil or Thomas Breideband.

mklingbeil1@gsu.edu

tbreideband1@gsu.edu

Join our Facebook group: RSA@GSU

Follow us on Twitter: RSAatGSU

